MANY DELEGATES PRESENT AT OPENING SESSION OF THE PITTSBURG SYNOD

President Alonzo J. Turkle Delivers Synodical Sermon at Meeting Last Night

REPORTS HEARD TODAY

Two Deaths Reported in the Synod During the Past Year--Many Changes Made of Ministers

With the synodical sermon by Rev. Alonzo J. Turkle, D. D., the synod president the 58th annual convention of the Pittsburgh Synod of the Lutheran church opened last night at Christ Lutheran church. There were a large number of delegates present, arrangements having been made for the entertainment of 160. Holy communion was administered following the address and an offering was taken for the synodical treasury. A reception to the delegates and those who are entertaining them was held in conclusion in the Sunday School rooms of the church.

Rev. Turkle's topic was "Steadfast in Faith and Service" and his text was "Therefore my beloved brethren be ye steadfast, unmovable always, abounding in the faith of the Lord for as much as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." He said that in religious work results are not to be attained, at once but it is a slow process. He exhorted the ministers and lay delegates in attendance to not be weary in well doing, but forever "abounding in the work of the Lord." He said in closing: "Have patience, have faith, have hope, have love and I am almost inclined to say the chiefest of these is hope; because the pastor by his very hope leads his congregation to the things hoped for."

Jesse K. Johnston of the local church spoke a few words welcoming the delegates and telling them a few facts of Charleroi and vicinity. He said that the delegates had come to a place where graft was unknown and as a result of the convention bespoke better work in the Lutheran church.

Mrs. George A. Emsch sang a solo and choir and congregational music was rendered.

At this morning's session the report of the retiring president, Rev. A. J. Turkle, was made after the synod had organized. Rev. Turkle reported that during the past year there had been two deaths in the synod and 20 changes made in parishes. Corner stones were laid at churches in Sharpsburg, Emsworth, Monessen, Jeannette, East Carnegie, Connellsville and East McKeesport. A church at Kellersburg was rededicated. Improvements were made at the Fryburg, Turtle Creek, Blairsville, Homer City, Trinity church in Allegheny and Monongahela churches.

Rev. Jerome M. Guss, President of Pittsburgh Synod who took his seat this morning.

Following the report by President Turkle, new officers which were elected as is the custom of the synod at the meeting last year, were installed and took their seats. They are Rev. J. M. Guss of Etna, president, and Rev. H. C. Erdman, of Swissvale, secretary. Reports of two committees were made on synodical devotion and synodical programs, and the appointment of committees was made. Rev. Charles S. Albert, D. D., of the Lutheran Publication Society then made an address, in which he told of the work that is being done by this department. He said that the second volume of Teacher's Training book was being issued, and said that a new Adult Bible Class quarterly edited by Rev. C. P. Wiles, formerly of the Pittsburgh Synod was about to be issued. Dr. William Granville who is shortly to be installed as president of the Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, closed the morning's session with an address. He emphasized the value of church institutions, and said that in Europe the Lutheran colleges were recognized as the best educational institutions.

This afternoon the reports of the advisory board of home missions, the treasurer, the statistical secretary and the synodical historians are being heard. Tonight will be known as the home mission anniversary and Rev. H. E. Clare will deliver a sermon on the subject, "The Set Times for the Enlargement of Zion."

MANY CHARLEROI PEOPLE EXPECTED TO ATTEND BIG RALLY AT UNIONTOWN

Columbus Day Celebration at Fayette County Seat to be Featured by Address by Hon. J. K. Tener

Uniontown people are making great preparations for the observance of Columbus Day Wednesday, and one of the largest crowds ever assembled in that town is expected to be present. Knights of Columbus councils have charge of the event and the celebration will be stretched into a two days' session, the first of which will be featured by a visit and speech-making by Congressman J. K. Tener of Charleroi, candidate for Governor. A large delegation of Charleroi Knights of Columbus as well as citizens, not belonging to this organization are expected to go, the latter because of the visit of Mr. Tener. With the Charleroi Knights of Columbus will go the Monessen council. They will likely remain until Thursday, when there will be a number of important events, chief of which will be a red fire parade in the evening and speaking by the Royal Italian Consu of Pittsburgh. On Wednesday a monster parade will be held.

A special train has been arranged to leave Uniontown at 10:30 Wednesday night, returning to Charleroi and all intermediate points, to bring home the visitors. A big rally is expected for Congressman Tener.

UNIQUE PORCH ON LINCOLN AVENUE

Not Another Like That of E. F. Youngman in the Valley.

A unique porch which when finished will be unlike anything in Charleroi or for that matter in the entire valley is being built at the home of E. F. Youngman on Washington avenue, by Contractor J. J. Recklies. The porch faces Washington avenue and the unique part is the posts. These are paneled, but instead of the usual wood panels being used, plate glass of a beautiful bluish tint is used. There are four of these posts. Over the porch will be a balcony. The effect is particularly artistic.

FALSE REPORTS BRANDED BY MR TENER IN SPEECH AT BIG PITTSBURG RALLY

MAY BE MYSTERY IN DEATH OF UNKNOWN

A man supposed to have been John Jenkins, of Greensburg or Courtney, was killed by a local car in West Monongahela last night. The man was lying across the tracks and the motorman, Edward Elder, did not see him until he was struck. One foot was cut off, the head crushed and the body badly bruised and mangled. The only means of possible identification lay in several letters and postal cards and an order card.

The remains were taken to an undertaking establishment for further identification. It is supposed that the man was intoxicated, his appearance, after death, indicating he had been drinking. It is thought that he may have been placed unconscious on the track.

APPOINTMENTS ARE MADE OF METHODIST MINISTERS

Many Changes Made Along Valley---Rev. Richards Transferred to Charleroi---Rev. Doak Going to Wellsburg

Many changes were made in the pastorates along the valley in the Methodist Episcopal church at the annual convention of the Pittsburgh conference which closed its sessions at Beaver Falls yesterday. Locally there was a change, Rev. A. M. Doak, who has been here for three years being transferred to a bigger charge in Wellsburg, W. Va., and Rev. F. A. Richards being sent here from Homer City in Armstrong county.

The church to which Rev. Doak is sent has a membership of over 400 and owns an imposing brick church building and a newly erected brick parsonage. There is no church debt, and the charge is recognized as a good one on the Washington district of the conference.

Rev. Richards who is to come here is recommended as an able man and specially suitable for the local work. The changes will be in effect next Sunday, when Rev. Doak will occupy the Wellsburg pulpit and Rev.

Richards the local pulpit. Rev. Doak will not be able to move to Wellsburg for a week or so, however. During his pastorate here he has made numerous friends who regret to see him leave.

Other appointments in this neighborhood were: Allenport, L. V. Robinson; Bentleyville, J. S. Allison, Jr.; California, A. W. Renton; Coal Centre, H. L. Humbert; Donora, S. G. Noble; Monongahela, J. F. Murray; Monongahela mission, J. C. McMinn and J. C. High; Roscoe, John Lyons; Belle Vernon, J. W. D. Hazelton; Monessen, L. W. Lepage; Fayette City, J. E. Billings.

H. J. Giles was returned to Friendship Park church, William Medley was sent to McCandless Avenue church in Pittsburgh, A. E. Husted to Derry, and J. C. Burnsworth to Homer City. All are former Charleroi pastors. J. E. Brenneman, the former Monessen pastor, was given the charge at Sheridan. The Washington district superintendent appointed was J. H. Miller.

Gubernatorial Candidate Exposes Attempt to Involve Him in Labor Dispute

LARGE NUMBER HEAR TALK

Thousands of Allegheny County Voters Pay Respects to Head of State Ticket

One of the biggest and most enthusiastic rallies that has yet greeted Congressman John K. Tener in his campaign for Governor was held in Pittsburgh last night in the North-side Carnegie Hall. During the afternoon a big reception was given at Republican headquarters in Grant street, where Mr. Tener and his colleagues on the ticket were greeted by thousands of enthusiastic workers and supporters. A dinner was also served at which many of the prominent Republicans of the western part of the State were present.

The speeches at Carnegie Hall were preceded by a monster parade in which the American and the Republican Homestead clubs and other similar organizations were conspicuous figures. In his speech before the large crowd in the hall Mr. Tener took occasion to brand as false some of the statements that are being circulated against him regarding his attitude toward organized labor. Along this line he said:

"This State has, as you know, passed legislation for the benefit of the working man, and you must appreciate the fact that that legislation was enacted and placed on our statute books largely at the suggestion of the workingmen and through the advice of union labor. While much has been said about the connection that I have in different enterprises which employ labor, I want it distinctly understood that my attitude toward labor unions is just this: That where I am an employer of labor I would never deny anyone the right to join whatsoever labor union he pleased.

"I happen to be interested in a little street railway in Charleroi that employs some twenty or thirty men, and while I have not the direction of the operating department of that road and am no more familiar with it than anyone else who is just a stockholder and an officer, great criticism has been directed at me because the employees of that road are not members of a particular union. So far as I am concerned they can join whatsoever union they please.

"The attempt was made to embarrass me by one who sought to have the men join a certain union and failing at the outset, he put the blame upon me. That same man is now a candidate on the Keystone ticket. I make this explanation so that it will be positively understood."

Beginning with his rally Mayor Magee and the party workers of Pittsburgh expect to start a whirlwind campaign to be continued until the election. The registration is heavy, and the Republican majority is sure to be large.

The Ladies of the First Presbyterian church will hold their annual rummage sale, October 26 to 28.

WILL ENGAGE TWO BANDS FOR EVENTS HALLOWE'EN NIGHT

Phanton Brigade to Participate in the Big Parade

Matters are beginning to assume definite form for the second annual celebration of Halloween to be held in Charleroi on October 31. It is the intention to have two bands for the parade, but the committee lacks sufficient funds as yet to secure these. Prizes will be awarded for the best dressed and the most fancy dressed masqueraders.

Several local business men are planning to have an "Old King Pumpkin" float, to be gotten up in the best possible style. In the parade it is expected there will be automobile floats and hundreds of masked marchers. The phantom brigade which E. F. Acheson brought into notoriety, will be here in all its glory. The parade officials and the list of prizes will be made known later.

MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDING REGULAR MONTHLY SESSION

Doctors Take Up Study of Tuberculosis at Washington Today.

The regular monthly meeting of the Washington County Medical society is being held this afternoon at Washington and the program is being featured by discussions on tuberculosis. Reports will be made from the State convention of physicians at Pittsburgh last week. The following is the technical program to be given:

"What the county society may do to prevent the spread of tuberculosis," by Jno. B. Donaldson of Canonsburg.

"Status of tuberculosis in this county with prophylactic suggestions," by S. M. Hazlett of Washington.

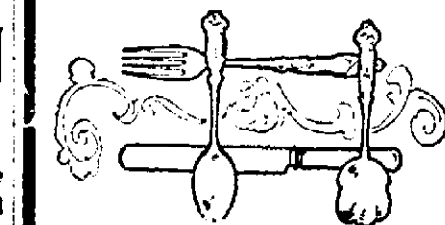

"Early diagnosis of tuberculosis, especially in children," by H. P. Lynch of Morgantown.

"Practical value of the laboratory aids in the diagnosis of tuberculosis," by L. C. Honesty of Washington.

Brands False Statement

The attempt to embarrass John K.
Tener in his political campaign for Governor as being arrayed against organized labor has been met by a frank statement and denial on the part of Mr. Tener. In his speech at Northside, Pittsburgh, last night, Mr. Tener explained the incident which has been widely heralded and construed to his disadvantage. When it becomes known that the instigator is a candidate for office himself on the opposition ticket, the motive is at once apparent. Further than this Mr.
Tener's statement, that so far as he was concerned that any employee of an enterprise with which he happened to be connected was free to join any labor or other organization he choose,
is fully substantiated.

It is not necessary to defend Mr.
Tener in his attitude toward labor in this community. His efforts with other citizens to establish and bring industries that employ labor to the town speak for themselves. When the citizen of Charleroi dug down in their pockets and raised a bonus to start the Imperial bottle factory two years ago, no one was more active than Mr. Tener, who not only contributed liberally to the fund but devoted much time in helping devise and safeguarding the financial part of the project. Organized labor will have no fairer exponent in the executive chair of the State than Mr. Tener, when he is elected to fill that important office.

Hostile to the County

According to the Canonburg Notes,
one of the papers in the county controlled by the Acheson faction, a large amount of wool has been unsold in the county because of low prices offered for the same. The ruling price is 2 cents a pound, six cents lower than the ruling price last year. One of the reasons assigned for the low price is the prospect of tariff tinkering. The Notes, states
"that in case the Payne-Aldrich measure is altered, it is generally believed that the wool schedule will be the first to be taken up."

This is one of the results of the attacks of the Acheson papers against the Republican policy of protection in this district. The Acheson influences

—the Washington Observer, the Reporter, and the Canonburg Notes are trying hard to elect a Democratic Congressman in this district who will do all in his power to cripple
the wool growing industry of Washington county, which is important in more ways than one. The raising of sheep for wool purposes also increases the mutton supply, and this has a tendency to keep the prices of beef down. With all the sheep gone from Washington county, the price of beef will soar still higher. By the drop in the price of wool the Acheson papers can console themselves with the thought that their attacks are already doing harm to the industries
of the county.

Gives Up the Fight

The Philadelphia North American,
while not supporting W. H. Berry,
the Keystone candidate for Governor,
is nevertheless knocking the Republican administration gives up all hope of Berry's election since who registration returns from Philadelphia have been announced. Concerning this the North American discouragingly remarks:

"The returns from Saturday's registration show that 100,000 Philadelphians did not care enough about representative government to take the trouble to register. The decrease will be largest in the residential sections, where the home owners constitute the majority. The dying wards many of which are included in the tangle of the belt show a full or increased registration, despite the fact that they contain fewer votes than ever before. The falling off in registration is due mainly to the failure of three classes of citizens to qualify. By far the largest number belongs to that class of tariff worshippers who place the Payne-Aldrich variety of protection above all other political or moral considerations. It has been said of such men, and in many cases, we think, truly said, that in the event of a conflict between any existing tariff schedule and an eternal truth revealed from heaven,
their votes would be cast unquestioningly for the gospel of Joe Canon.

"If the official figures of the registration seem to be discouraging to the independents, let them be comforted by the knowledge that this election will separate the sheep from the goats. Too many of the men who have figured in the newspapers as reform leaders during the last several years have been the secret allies of Senator Penrose. They have easily convinced him that they could serve him best by working with reform
forces in strictly municipal matters.
When the Keystone party became a State as well as a municipal organization it left the Penrose men in the reform ranks no alternative but to renounce their allegiance to reform and take their place with Penrose whom they long have served in secret faithfully and well."

Even Gibbons, the Keystone candidate for Lieutenant Governor, who is the only politician on the ticket, admits that there is no hope for his party unless it can break even in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, and now that the registry returns of the greatest voting centre of the State show that the class of citizens on whom the Keystone pinned their faith have proven indifferent, it is ample evidence that this indifference exists in nearly every quarter of the State. When the North American admits defeat, it is no use for the balance to whistle in order to keep up their courage.

YOUR KIDNEYS

NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, Ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise,
and yet the teeth are not one-tenth so important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes it out of the body by way of the bladder?

Well all this is so, as any physician
will tell you and this being the case, doesn't it stand to reason that these little strainers in the kidneys become clogged with impurities?

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood and uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure when the kidneys are concerned. It's as easy as to clean out clogged kidneys as to clean your teeth.

Just go to W. F. Hennings today and get a bottle of Thompson's Bar-soms, the most scientific kidney,
liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barsoms is guaranteed
by W. F. Hennings to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburgh papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

PALESTINE.

Many Ways in Which It Strikingly Resembles California.

Palestine is more like the state of California than any other in the Union in everything except size. It lies between longitude 34 degrees 30 minutes and 36 degrees 30 minutes east and between latitude 30 degrees 30 minutes and 33 degrees 45 minutes north.
It is practically a California reduced to about one-twentieth in size, but markedly similar in general topography, climate, vegetation and agricultural and economic possibilities.

Like California, Palestine is longest from north to south. Like California, too, it has both very high mountains,
having an elevation of 9,000 to 10,000 feet, and very deep depressions. The Dead sea, 1,200 feet below sea level,
is the greatest depression known, and,
like the Death valley of California, it is situated in the southern extremity of the country.

In Palestine, just as in California, we have a dry, warm season and a humid and more temperate one. The rainy season extends from October to May,
and the dry season from May to October.

Palestine is even more favored than California with regard to the winter temperature. Although the thermometer rises as high in summer in Palestine as in California, with extremes of 110 degrees to 115 degrees F., though not so often. It very rarely drops in the winter to the freezing point. Snow is rare, even on the plateaus, and our farmers are practically safe from any damage by frost over nearly the entire extent of the country.—From Aaron Aranson's "Agricultural and Botanical Explorations in Palestine."

KEPT HER BUSY.

The Way She Tried to Discover the Telephone Numbers.

"I don't believe that the public schools teach their graduates to use their minds," remarked a well known citizen of Philadelphia the other day.
"Here's a story just to illustrate what I mean:

"I got a secretary last summer who had just been graduated with high honors from the Commercial high school. She had been picked out for me as the best girl in her class, and I found her excellent in all that required methodical, parrot-like work.

"One day I jotted down some telephone numbers that I wanted to remember and, having a poor memory,
forgot in the course of the morning whose the numbers were or what the business was upon which I wanted to phone.

"So I called Miss Blank just as I was going out and said, 'Before you get your luncheon I wish you'd find out for me whose those telephone numbers are.'

"Two hours later I came back, and Miss Blank was sitting at her desk, weary and perseveringly studying the telephone book.

"I asked her if she had got some letters written that I had left, if she had lunched, if she had done several little things. She said no and then explained:

"You see, it takes me a long time to read through the book till I come to the numbers you want," she said. 'I haven't had time to do anything else!'

"No; I haven't slept well lately."

"What's the trouble? Has the

"Oh, no, it isn't that."

"I'll tell you what it is. You ought to give up the practice of drinking coffee at night. I know a lot of people who toss awake all night after they have been out to a late dinner and flushed with coffee. I had to quit it myself."

"I'm sure that isn't the cause of my trouble."

"Have you seen a doctor?"

"No. A doctor couldn't help me any."

"But how can you tell until you go to one and let him examine you?"

"Well, if you must know, I'm worrying about my husband. He hasn't kicked at the size of the bills lately,
and he's been so kind and even tempered right along for a month or two that I feel almost sure he must be

The Waiter With Two Cars.

A Cleveland party recently sojourning in a Toronto hotel decided to take an automobile ride about the city.
They approached the extremely self conscious clerk and asked him where they could secure a car.

"Our head waitah has two, don't y'
know," he replied.

It took some little time to recover from this shock, but presently one of the party ventured to ask the price.

"Three an hour," was the answer.

That was voted satisfactory, and at lunch one of the Clevelanders turned to the nearest waiter.

"Who is the chap that owns two automobiles?" he asked.

"I am the chap," the waiter replied,
and he threw such a freezing emphasis into the word "chap" that it was fairly frost cracked.

They finished their luncheon before they had enough courage to ask the price.

"Four dollars an hour," the waiter
replied with haughty indifference.

Then they went uptown and hired a very good car for $3 an hour.—Clev-land Plain Dealer.

The Good Time.

Frequently you hear a rich man abused because he stays on the job that made him rich instead of spending his time gadding about the earth in search of a good time. But it is hardly fair to assume that avarice and greed prompt such action or even that it is a lack of faith in humanity. Very likely the work done represents the good time for the man who stays at
it after all need of work has passed,
for it is certain that there are many ideas of what constitutes happiness.

and the man who selects loafing is apt
to change his mind in time if he tries
it. Doing nothing is harder than work, and if a man has spent many years at work, earning little of play, work brings him more enjoyment than the butterfly existence.—Archibald Globe

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or mucus, hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

WE WILL HOLD A PLACE OF HONOR

Policies of Pennsylvania Re- publicans to Promote Po- litical Harmony

ROOSEVELT BORROWS THEM

Senator Penrose, the Accepted State Leader, Will Enjoy a Conspicuous Position at Next Session of the Senate—Will Head Two Important Committees.

At the next session of the United States Congress Pennsylvania will take the right of the line and move well in advance in the procession of states in this great nation. The result of the approaching general election will in no way influence the enviable position secured by this State in national affairs. Of course the result of the coming election is not in serious doubt, but the election, even of the Socialist candidate, could not change the position to which the State will be justly entitled when the national Congress again assembles. No sane person is seriously considering the Socialists in the pending struggle in this grand old Commonwealth, and, by the same token, no sane person is any possible brand of reasoning is able to convince himself or any other person that either the Democrats or the Keystoneers has a chance much improved over that of the Socialists. The Republicans are just as certain to carry Pennsylvania at the election next month as it is certain that an election will be held. Therefore the duty of all Republicans is clearly defined. The job of making that certain victory overwhelming rests not entirely with the regular leaders of the Republican party but with every Republican in the State. The pride and honor of being part of the majority in the leading State in the nation should be shared by all members of the majority party and there is no Republican so remote or obscure who should shrink from demanding his full share of the credit for placing his party and his State in the front rank of states and parties. John K. Tener will be elected Governor of Pennsylvania next month by an overwhelming majority. Every Republican should and no doubt will share in the credit for that achievement. Pennsylvania will send an overwhelming Republican delegation to the next Congress and every Republican in the State should have a proportionate share in the credit for that good work. Never before in the history of the party has the individual Republican shared more liberally in the management of his party than at the present time. The policy of the Republican party in Pennsylvania is absolutely the policy of the members of the Republican party in this State and that policy is the basis for insurrection and contention in other States where Republican supremacy is being threatened and is in many cases actually endangered. It is the policy of the Republican party in Pennsylvania for which Colonel Roosevelt is battling in New York State. It is the policy of the Pennsylvania Republicans for which the Insurgents are fighting in Wisconsin, Indiana, Kansas and other States and they are fighting for that policy wholly and solely because it is advanced and is the policy of the whole people and is against the policy of political bosses and selfish leaders. President Taft came to Pennsylvania and found that the policy of the Republican party guaranteed Republican control. He approved that policy publicly and without stint. He urged that other States should follow the example set by the Pennsylvania Republicans and he refused to lend his mighty influence to the selfish leaders in other States where the Pennsylvania policy was being ignored. Colonel Roosevelt came to Pennsylvania and was delighted with the political conditions here. He went unannounced into industrial sections. He attended meetings of civic organizations and he felt the public pulse as the advance agent of progressive politicians. He found the policy of the Pennsylvania Republicans much to his liking and he immediately went from this State to New York where he insisted that the Pennsylvania policy should be the policy of the New York Republicans. He of course had to fight for the innovation which he proposed, but fighting is fattening to him and he bombarded the citadel of bossism, drove the selfish old leaders from their apparently firm positions and placed the Republican party of the Empire State on the policy and platform which he had borrowed from the Republican party in Pennsylvania. By borrowing from the Pennsylvania Republicans their platform and policy Colonel Roosevelt has practically guaranteed continued supremacy to the New York Republicans. He placed upon the platform borrowed from Pennsylvania a Republican candidate for Governor of the same class and character as the Pennsylvania Republicans selected as their candidate for Governor and the people of New York will elect the Pennsylvania candidate because he is the candidate of the people on a platform designed by the people and because he fits that platform just as Republican platform in Pennsylvania. It will be recalled that not a few of the Democrats and political place hunters in Pennsylvania such as Candidate Berry have gone on record as heartily indorsing Colonel Roosevelt. That, however, was before Colonel Roosevelt came to Pennsylvania, approved the Republican party and its policies and then took those policies and platform back to New York to save the Republican party of the Empire State from just such insincere pretenders as Mr. Berry. Colonel Roosevelt will not only continue New York to the Republicans by borrowing policies from Pennsylvania Republicans but already he has silenced the guns of the discontents which have been trained upon President Taft ever since his inauguration and those who are willing to hold their ear to the ground for even a moment must read in the political rumblings the fact that Mr. Taft will be renominated for President if he decides that he wants another nomination and just as certainly as he accepts a renomination he will be re-elected because long before the next presidential campaign Pennsylvania's policies and platform will have become contagious among the Republicans of the nation and that alone will assure Republican success in Republican states. The fact that Colonel Roosevelt is applying Pennsylvania medicine to the Republicans of other sections and is acting as the successful physician almost immediately after being so heartily indorsed by Candidate Berry and his kind places the discontents and place hunters of this State at a disadvantage to say the least. The facts are there is nothing wrong with the Pennsylvania Republicans and their Policies. Colonel Roosevelt, the apostle of real political reform, has himself said so and Mr. Berry himself has told the voters of the State that Colonel Roosevelt is all right all the time.

While the result of the pending political contest in Pennsylvania will in no way hamper the enviable position enjoyed by Pennsylvania at the next session of the United States Congress it will be pleasing to the individual Republicans of this State to realize that they had a part in electing a Republican Governor and a Republican Congress to strengthen and uphold the hands of their Republican Senators and members of Congress who are next to the people themselves responsible for the policies and platform which so appealed to Colonel Roosevelt that he carried them away from the Keystone State to sustain and support the progressive Republicans not only in New York, but in the nation at large.

No one individual in Pennsylvania deserves more credit for the advanced position now occupied by our State in the affairs of the nation than is due to United States Senator Boies Penrose, the accepted Republican leader in Pennsylvania. In assuming State leadership Senator Penrose appealed to the rank and file of the Republicans for harmony and concerted action. He learned from his followers just what they wanted and he led an aggressive fight to satisfy their wishes. At present he enjoys to the fullest the confidence and esteem of the individual members of the Republican organization in the State. Just as he richly deserves he has passed from a State figure to a national leader of his party. He is chairman of the committee on Post-offices and Post Roads in the Senate, one of the most important assignments in that body. He will at the next session progress to the head of the finance committee of the Senate, a commanding position in that body. He is also a member well up on the committees of Commerce, Naval Affairs, Education and Labor, Immigration and Public Expenditures. Senator Penrose also represents Pennsylvania on the Republican national committee and enjoys the confidence and esteem of President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and others of their class. In short the leader of the Pennsylvania Republicans is a recognized leader of the Republicans of the nation and his prominence intensifies the pride of his constituents in his advancement.

A BAG OF GOLF CLUBS.

They Picture in a Way the Various Phases of Human Society.

Devotees of the links will be interested to learn that, in the opinion of a philosophical student of their ancient game, a bag of golf clubs is a symbolic epitome of human society.

In the front rank you have the driver, smooth, polished, elegant, the aristocrat of the circle, to whose lot falls the showy role in the day's performance, who disdains to play his part on the level of his fellows, and must have his sphere of operations artificially raised above the plane of the common earth. The brassy is your rich commoner, substituting a barrier of metal for the tee that confers rank on his social superior. After these come the humbler creaks, leathers and mashies, the common herd, who, like the butchers, shoemakers, and tillers of the ground among human beings, have the bulk of the work to do, and can afford no polish save what comes from keeping themselves clean, which at times is no easy task. Apart from them all stands the niblick, the good Samaritan of golf, resorted to only when the player is in a serious difficulty. The function of the niblick is to aid the golfer in the day of trouble, and his destiny, after having done his duty in that state of life, is to be relegated to the limbo of forgetfulness.—Argonaut.

A Tip on Oats.

According to the Saturday Evening Post, a man who had a country place on Long Island came to New York one morning to do a little speculating. He was a great believer in tips.

On the ferryboat it came to him that he had had somehow a tip on oats. He couldn't remember just what it was, but somebody had told him to buy oats. So when he reached his broker's office he looked into oats a bit and bought some. Oats were active. He pyramided skillfully and by the close of the market was $7,000 ahead.

Of course such luck as that had to be celebrated, and it was. As the celebration went on the oats buyer told the story several times and each time took on importance in the revival as an oats buyer until he finally became the oats king. He reached his railroad station somewhat late and found the stableman waiting for him with a trap.

"By the way," said the stableman, "did you remember to order that five bushels of oats I asked you to buy this morning?"

Not Safe.

The negro on occasions displays a fine discrimination in the choice of words.

"Who's the best whitewasher in town?" Inquired the new resident.

"Ale Hall am a bond artist with a whitewash brush, sah," answered the colored patriarch eloquently.

"Well, tell him to come and white wash my chicken house tomorrow."

Uncle Jacob shook his head dubious ly.

"Ah don't believe, sah. Ah'd engage Ale Hall to whitewash a chicken house, sah."

"Why, didn't you say he was a good whitewasher?"

"Yas, sah, a powerful good whitewasher, sah, but mighty queer about a chicken house, sah, mighty queer!"—Human Life.

Her Revenge.

A little girl had been so very naughty that her mother found it necessary to shut her up in a dark closet—in that family the direct punishment for the worst offense. For fifteen minutes the door had been locked without a sound coming from behind it—not a whimper, not a sniffle. At last the stern but anxious parent unlocked the closet door and peered into the darkness. She could see nothing.

"What are you doing in there?" she cried.

And then a little voice piped to her from the darkness:

"I tipped on your new dress, and I tipped on your new hat, and I tipped on your new shoes, and I tipped on your new pants!"—Philadelphia Times.

He Made Good.

Lord Lansdowne once had a remarkable prophecy made concerning him. While he was an Oxford graduate Jewett, his tutor at Balliol, greatly admired him and always said that he would do great things.

"There goes a man," remarked Jewett, "who is as certain to be foreign secretary in due time in whichever party he chooses as tomorrow's sun is to rise."

Of course at that time Lord Lansdowne had not the least idea of filling such a distinguished post, and yet in 1900, after a brilliant political career, he found himself at the head of the foreign office.—London M. A. P.

Her Lost Chance.

Mrs. B.—I wonder why Miss Single refused the curate when he proposed to her?

Mrs. D.—All a mistake, my dear. A sad mistake; you know she has grown a little deaf, and she did not suspect he was at all "gone" on her. She actually thought he was asking her to subscribe to the new organ fund, so she told him she was sorry, but she had promised all her money in another direction.

Mrs. B.—Then what happened?

Mrs. D.—The curate felt himself insulted and departed in dudgeon, and she's lost the only chance she ever had.—London Telegraph.

Sense of Humor Declining.

"Do you think Americans have a great sense of humor?"

"Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "I'm afraid it isn't what it used to be. The folks out home are becoming so interested in economic issues that they don't seem to care whether I tell them any funny stories or not."—Washington Star.

Wrong Trail.

First Professor of Chemistry—What are you working at now? Second Professor—I'm trying to ascertain the cause of baldness. First Professor—Oh, stop it! You're wasting your time. What you ought to be doing is trying to ascertain the cause of hair growth.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Ready Demonstration.

"Do you think you can make my daughter happy?" asked Miss Thirsty Smith's father gravely.

"Why, I have already, haven't I?" replied Spomer. "I've asked her to marry me."—Smart Set.

His Lost Leg.

A mendicant approached a man on the cars the other day and said, "Dear sir, I have lost my leg," to which the man replied, as he hurried away, "My dear friend, I am very sorry, but I have not seen anything of it."

A Disagreeable Reception.
Wear Wiggles—I don't like the reception I got at that house. Bleating Harry—Who came to the door? Wear Wiggles—The dog.—Judge.

The Symbolism Didn't Appeal.

"Charlie," sorrowfully sighed the young lady in the parlor of the concrete house on Washington avenue, "it is nearly 12 o'clock."

"Yes, Belinda," was the breathing response of her poetical companion, who was sitting on the sofa beside her. "The minute hand is drawing closer to the hour hand, and when the time of midnight is chimed the two hands will be even as one. Oh, darling Belinda," he continued as he literally simulated the action of the minute hand, "may not the coming together of those two hands be symbolical of us?"

She broke away and stood firmly on her feet. "No, Charles Henry Smith," she retorted angrily, "those two hands will remain as one but a single second, and then the minute hand will divorce itself and go on its way alone. No, Mr. Smith, a minute hand that doesn't stick isn't the kind of symbolism I want!"—Chicago News.

Dividing a Long Sermon.

Dr. Samuel Bach of the last half of the eighteenth century, who used to preach two or three hours, like Isaac Barrow, was ingenious in detaining his congregation. On one occasion, after preaching nearly two hours—as long as he could feel secure in the presence of all his hearers—he remarked that he was done preaching to sinners and that they were at liberty to go; the rest of his discourse would be addressed to good people.

A gentleman who once went to hear him stated that when the hourglass was nearly ready to be turned a second time from the commencement of his sermon he said, much to the relief of the person who related it, "Once more." After going on some eight or ten minutes longer he said, "To conclude," and after another about equal interval he said, "Lastly."

The gentleman added that he expected every moment to hear him say "Everlastingly."

He Came Down Light.

A Chicago board of trade man who was not in the habit of attending church was taking a walk one Sunday morning, and on coming to a church at the regular hour of service he decided to go in. As he entered the auditorium in which the pews were adjusted upon a sloping floor an usher stepped forward and, wishing to consult him as to location before conducting him to a sitting, politely inquired:

"Would you like to come down pretty well?"

Mistaking the inquiry to be an appeal for money, the board of trade man began to fumble through his pockets as he drawled:

"I'd like to, but I'm not prepared to come down very heavy, as 15 cents is all I have with me."—Harper's Magazine.

A Varnishing Tip.

When varnishing wood the work must be done in a warm room at a temperature of at least 75 degrees F. At a lower temperature the moisture in the air will give a milky and cloudy appearance to the varnish. On the other hand, at the higher temperature the moisture is not precipitated until the alcohol of the varnish has sufficiently evaporated to leave a thin smooth film of shellac. The durability and gloss are dependent on this.

The Blind Man's Lantern.

A blind man in Khotka (a Caucasian village) came back from the river one night bringing a pitcher of water and carrying in his hand a lighted lantern. Some one meeting him said: "You're blind. It's all the same to you whether it's day or night. Of what use to you is a lantern?" "I don't carry the lantern in order to see the road," replied the blind man, "but to keep some fool like you from running against me and breaking my pitcher."

His Peers.

"Pa, what does it mean to be tried by a jury of one's peers?"

"It means, my son, that a man is to be tried by a jury composed of men who are his equals or on an equality with him, so that they will have no prejudice against him."

"Then, pa, I suppose you'd have to be tried by a jury of baldheaded men."

The Widow.

"In a town," said a life insurance official, "where life insurance was a rare thing a schoolteacher said to a little boy pupil:

"Tommy, define the word widow."

"A widow, Tommy answered, 'is a poor woman with a large family of children who takes boards.'"

Painfully Frank.

Wedderly—They say that a man and his wife grow to look alike after they have been married a few years. Now, my wife and I have been married ten years. Do you think we look alike? Singleton—Yes, indeed. You both seem to have the same sad expression.

Might Have Been Worse.

Rheumatic Patient—Oh, doctor, I do suffer so with my hands and feet! Cheery Doctor—My dear woman, you think what inconvenience you would have to suffer without them.

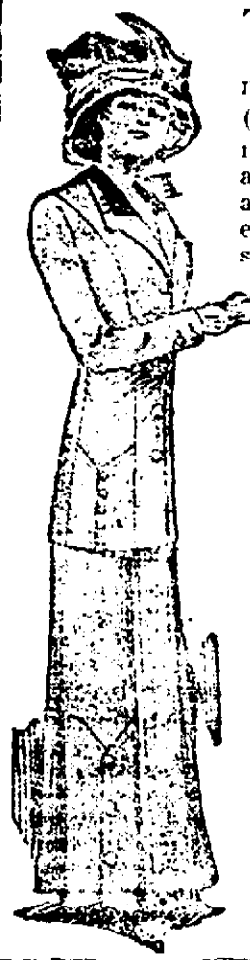

The Earth.

Tommy—Pop, does the earth go round? Tommy's Pop—Yes, my son. But it wouldn't if it was divided among all the people who want it.—Philadelphia Record.

No man has yet discovered the means of giving successfully friendly advice to women—not even to his own.—Balsac.

Berryman's Shop Talk

BLANKE'S

This store has been buying Blankets of the right kind for most fifteen years and found only one had one, and that customer got a new blanket, and then admitted two rambunctious boys had kicked a hole in it. Isn't that a record? Well! We think so and so do the people, and that accounts for them coming here in such large numbers for blankets.

You've got to depend on a store for blankets of the right kind, and this store depends on the manufacturer. Now we say, "leave it to us." We won't overcharge you, but good blankets with good wool cost a fair price.

Our blankets are now in and marked in plain figures, and you can see them with both eyes open and feel of their goodness with both hands. Oh! It's easy to buy good blankets here.

This year we've added a line of fine all cotton blankets and they look like the wool— are pretty, soft and serviceable and sell at $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

Then there comes the cotton blankets that are used so much for sheets—and we've got the kind that's big enough for a sheet, light and dark colors. These good sized blankets sell at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00, and we don't think you want the smaller kind.

Comfortables—they used to call them Haps— well, Haps or Comfortables or Bed Quills, we've got them and Jack Frost is sending in the buyers. There is nothing like having what the people want when they want it.

And that just reminds me that this big store has received over thirty thousand dollars' worth of new and dependable goods within the last six weeks. Well, I guess you'll find what you want when you want it.

Have you bought your boy your winter suit yet? Now you won't do justice to your boy until you see our Boy's Clothing. Let the boys come in—they'll tell you. More than that, we don't care if the boy is four years or two times forty years, we've got the right clothes for him, and we guarantee the goods and the price.

Shop talk may seem easy, but we are here to prove—it matters not if you are from Missouri or Pennsylvania.

MANY ATTENDING TELEGRAPH SCHOOL

Attractive Course Provided at Bedford by Railroad Company.

In an effort to increase the interest in its Telegraph School at Bedford, Pa., the Pennsylvania railroad has sent broadcast a pamphlet describing the work which it is doing in the institution. The number of students enrolled up to September first of this year was 213, of which number 151 have graduated and are now employed as telegraphers. The railroad expects to increase this number materially by its campaign.

The students at the Bedford School are taught practical railroading. The regular railroad telegraph wires are run through the school and train orders and telegrams are received and transmitted in the same way as is done in regular practice. An automatic sending machine, with a transmitter that can be set at any speed has been installed in the school. This machine is used to teach the students to receive messages, and as it transmits at a uniform speed, it is of great advantage. The school is equipped with a library, as well as a miniature railroad with a perfect block signal system. In addition to learning telegraphy the students are taught the duties of station agents in order that they may be prepared to take charge of stations immediately upon graduation. In view of the use of the telephone in train dispatching on the Pennsylvania Railroad, the latest innovation at the Bedford School is a course in dispatching trains by telephone. The Pennsylvania Railroad now uses the telephone on a number of its branch lines as well as on the Low Grade freight line.

In the pamphlet which the Railroad has just issued it is announced that the school of telegraphy was established for the purpose of educating young men to become telegraph or telephone operators, and to make it as easy as possible, only a nominal fee is charged. Students graduate in from six to eight months, and as a pamphlet states, "all graduates are given positions on the Pennsylvania Railroad, with the assurance that if they are faithful in the discharge of their duties they will have steady employment, and will be placed in line for promotion to higher positions."

MANY DELEGATES PRESENT AT OPENING SESSION OF THE PITTSBURG SYNOD

President Alonzo J. Turkle Delivers Synodical Sermon at Meeting Last Night

REPORTS HEARD TODAY

Two Deaths Reported in the Synod During the Past Year--Many Changes Made of Ministers

With the synodical sermon of Rev. Alonzo J. Turkle, D. D., the synod president, the 58th annual convention of the Pittsburg Synod of the Lutheran church opened last night at Christ Lutheran church. There were a large number of delegates present, arrangements having been made for the entertainment of 100. Holy communion was administered following the address and an offering was taken for the synodical treasury. A reception to the delegates and those who are entertaining them was held in conclusion in the Sunday School rooms of the church.

Rev. Turkle's topic was "Steadfast in Faith and Service" and his text was "Therefore my beloved brethren be ye steadfast, unmovable always, abounding in the faith of the Lord for as much as ye know that your labor is that during the past year there had been two deaths in the synod and 20 changes made in parishes. Corner stones were laid at churches in Sharpsburg, Emsworth, Monessen, Jeannette, East Carnegie, Connellsville and East McKeesport. A church at Kellersburg was rededicated. Improvements were made at the Fryburg, Turtle Creek, Blairsville, Homer City, Trinity church in Allegheny and Monongahela churches.

Following the report by President Turkle, new officers which were elected as is the custom of the synod at the meeting last year, were installed and took their seats. They are Rev. J. M. Guss of Etna, president, and Rev. H. C. Erdman, of Swissvale, secretary. Reports of two committees were made on synodical devotion and synodical programs, and the appointment of committees was made. Rev. Charles S. Albert, D. D., of the Lutheran Publication Society then made an address, in which he told of the work that is being done by this department. He said that the second volume of Teacher's Training book was being issued, and said that a new Adult Bible Class quarterly edited by Rev. C. P. Wiles, formerly of the Pittsburg Synod was about to be issued. Dr. William Granville who is shortly to be installed as president of the Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, closed the morning's session with an address. He emphasized the value of church institutions, and said that in Europe the Lutheran colleges were recognized as the best educational institutions.

This afternoon the reports of the advisory board of home missions, the treasurer, the statistical secretary and the synodical historians are being heard. Tonight will be known as the home mission anniversary and Rev. H. E. Clare will deliver a sermon on the subject, "The Set Times for the Enlargement of Zion."

MANY CHARLEROI PEOPLE EXPECTED TO ATTEND BIG RALLY AT UNIONTOWN

Columbus Day Celebration at Fayette County Seat to be Featured by Address by Hon. J. K. Tener

Uniontown people are making great preparations for the observance of Columbus Day Wednesday, and one of the largest crowds ever assembled in that town is expected to be present. Knights of Columbus councils have charge of the event and the celebration will be stretched into a two days' session, the first of which will be featured by a visit and speech-making by Congressman J. K. Tener of Charleroi, candidate for Governor. A large delegation of Charleroi Knights of Columbus as well as citizens, not belonging to this organization are expected to go, the latter because of the visit of Mr. Tener. With the Charleroi Knights of Columbus will go the Monessen council. They will likely remain until Thursday, when there will be a number of important events, chief of which will be a red fire parade in the evening and speaking by the Royal Italian Consul of Pittsburg. On Wednesday a monster parade will be held.

A special train has been arranged to leave Uniontown at 10:30 Wednesday night, returning to Charleroi and all intermediate points, to bring home the visitors. A big rally is expected for Congressman Tener.

UNIQUE PORCH ON LINCOLN AVENUE

There are four of these posts. Over the porch will be a balcony. The effect is particularly artistic.

APPOINTMENTS ARE MADE OF METHODIST MINISTERS

Many Changes Made Along Valley---Rev. Richards Transferred to Charleroi---Rev. Doak Going to Wellsburg

Many changes were made in the pastorate along the valley in the Methodist Episcopal church at the annual convention of the Pittsburg conference which closed its sessions at Beaver Falls yesterday. Locally there was a change, Rev. A. M. Doak, who has been here for three years being transferred to a bigger charge in Wellsburg, W. Va., and Rev. F. A. Richards being sent here from Homer City in Armstrong county.

The church to which Rev. Doak is sent has a membership of over 400 and owns an imposing brick church building and a newly erected brick parsonage. There is no church debt, and the charge is recognized as a good one on the Washington district of the conference.

Rev. Richards who is to come here is recommended as an able man and specially suitable for the local work. The changes will be in effect next Sunday, when Rev. Doak will occupy the Wellsburg pulpit and Rev.

Richards the local pulpit. Rev. Doak will not be able to move to Wellsburg for a week or so, however. During his pastorate here he has made numerous friends who regret to see him leave.

Other appointments in this neighborhood were: Allenport, L. V. Robinson; Bentleyville, J. S. Allison, Jr.; California, A. W. Renton; Coal Centre, H. L. Humbert; Donora, S. G. Noble; Monongahela, J. F. Murray; Monongahela mission, J. C. McMin and J. C. High; Roscoe, John Lyons; Belle Vernon, J. W. D. Hazelton; Monessen, L. W. Lepage; Fayette City, J. E. Billings.

H. J. Giles was returned to Friendship Park church, William Medley was sent to McCandless Avenue church in Pittsburg, A. E. Husted to Derry, and J. C. Burnsworth to Homer City. All are former Charleroi pastors. J. E. Brennehan, the former Monessen pastor, was given the charge at Sheridan. The Washington district superintendent appointed was J. H. Miller.

WILL ENGAGE TWO BANDS FOR EVENTS HALLOWE'EN NIGHT

Phantom Brigade to Participate in the Big Parade

Matters are beginning to assume definite form for the second annual celebration of Halloween to be held in Charleroi on October 31. It is the intention to have two bands for the parade, but the committee lacks sufficient funds as yet to secure these. Prizes will be awarded for the best dressed and the most fancy dressed masqueraders.

Several local business men are planning to have an "Old King Pumpkin" float, to be gotten up in the best possible style. In the parade it is expected there will be automobile floats and hundreds of masked marchers. The phantom brigade which E. F. Acheson brought into notoriety, will be here in all its glory. The parade officials and the list of prizes will be made known later.

LARGE NUMBER HEAR TALK

Thousands of Allegheny County Voters Pay Respects to Head of State Ticket

One of the biggest and most enthusiastic rallies that has yet greeted Congressman John K. Tener in his campaign for Governor was held in Pittsburg last night in the Northside Carnegie Hall. During the afternoon a big reception was given at Republican headquarters in Grant street, where Mr. Tener and his colleagues on the ticket were greeted by thousands of enthusiastic workers and supporters. A dinner was also served at which many of the prominent Republicans of the western part of the State were present.

The speeches at Carnegie Hall were preceded by a monster parade in which the American and the Republican Homestead clubs and other similar organizations were conspicuous figures. In his speech before the large crowd in the hall Mr. Tener took occasion to brand as false some of the statements that are being circulated against him regarding his attitude toward organized labor. Along this line he said:

"This State has, as you know, passed legislation for the benefit of the working man, and you must appreciate the fact that that legislation was enacted and placed on our statute books largely at the suggestion of the workingmen, and through the advice of union labor. While much has been said about the connection that I have in different enterprises which employ labor, I want it distinctly understood that my attitude toward labor unions is just this: That where I am an employer of labor I would never deny anyone the right to join whatsoever labor union he pleased.

"I happen to be interested in a little street railway in Charleroi, that employs some twenty or thirty men, and while I have not the direction of the operating department of that road and am no more familiar with it than anyone else who is just a stockholder and an officer, great criticism has been directed at me because the employees of that road are not members of a particular union. So far as I am concerned they can join whatever union they please.

"The attempt was made to embarrass me by one who sought to have the men join a certain union and failing at the outset, he put the blame upon me. That same man is now a candidate on the Keystone ticket. I make this explanation so that it will be positively understood. Beginning with his rally Mayor Magee and the party workers of Pittsburg expect to start a whirlwind campaign to be continued until the election. The registration is heavy, and the Republican majority is sure to be large.

The Ladies of the First Presbyterian church will hold their annual rummage sale, October 26 to 28. 5412

Brands False Statement

The attempt to embarrass John K. Tener in his political campaign for Governor as being arrayed against organized labor has been met by a frank statement and denial on the part of Mr. Tener. In his speech at Northside, Pittsburg, last night, Mr. Tener explained the incident which has been widely heralded and construed to his disadvantage. When it becomes known that the instigator is a candidate for office himself on the opposition ticket, the motive is at once apparent. Further than this Mr. Tener's statement, that so far as he was concerned that any employee of an enterprise with which he happened to be connected was free to join any labor or other organization he chooses, is fully substantiated.

It is not necessary to defend Mr. Tener in his attitude toward labor in this community. His efforts with other citizens to establish and bring industries that employ labor to the town speak for themselves. When the citizen of Charleroi dug down in their pockets and raised a bonus to start the Imperial bottle factory two years ago, no one was more active than Mr. Tener, who not only contributed liberally to the fund but devoted much time in helping devise and safeguarding the financial part of the project. Organized labor will have no fairer exponent in the executive chair of the State than Mr. Tener, when he is elected to fill that important office.

Hostile to the County

According to the Caronsburg Notes, one of the reasons why the county controlled by C. F. Caronsburg, a large amount of wool has been unsold in the county because the low prices offered for the product. The ruling price is 2 cents a pound, six cents lower than the ruling price last year. One of the reasons assigned for the low price is the prospect of tariff tinkering. The Notes, states "that in case the Payne-Aldrich measure is altered, it is generally believed that the wool schedule will be the first to be taken up."

This is one of the results of the attacks of the Acheson papers against the Republican policy of protection in this district. The Acheson influences—the Washington Observer, the Reporter, and the Caronsburg Notes are trying hard to elect a Democratic Congressman in this district who will do all in his power to cripple the wool growing industry of Washington county, which is important in more ways than one. The raising of sheep for wool purposes also increases the mutton supply, and this has a tendency to keep the prices of beef down. With all the sheep gone from Washington county, the price of beef will soar still higher. By the drop in the price of wool the Acheson papers can console themselves with the thought that their attacks are already doing harm to the industries of the county.

Gives Up the Fight

The Philadelphia North American, while not supporting W. H. Berry, the Keystone candidate for Governor, is nevertheless keeping the republican administration gives up all hope of Berry's election since who registration returns from Philadelphia have been announced. Concerning this the North American discouragingly remarks:

"The returns from Saturday's registration show that 100,000 Philadelphians did not care enough about representative government to take the trouble to register. The decrease will be largest in the residential sections, where the home owners constitute the majority. The dying wards many of which are included in the tenderloin belt show a full increase registration, despite the fact that they contain fewer votes than ever before. The falling off in registration is due mainly to the failure of three classes of citizens to qualify. By far the largest number belongs to that class of tariff worshiper who place the Payne Aldrich variety of protection above all other political or moral considerations. It has been said of such men, and in many cases, we think, truly said, that in the event of a conflict between any existing tariff schedule and an eternal truth revealed from heaven, their votes would be cast unquestioningly for the gospel of Joe Canon."

"If the official figures of the registration seem to be discouraging to the independents, let them be comforted by the knowledge that this election will separate the sheep from the goats. Too many of the men who have figured in the newspapers as reform leaders during the last several years have been the secret allies of Senator Penrose. They have easily convinced him that they could serve him best by working with reform forces in strictly municipal matters. When the Keystone party became a State as well as a municipal organization it left the Penrose men in the reform ranks no alternative but to renounce their allegiance to reform and take their place with Penrose whom they long have served in secret faithfully and well."

Even Gibbons, the Keystone candidate for Lieutenant Governor, who is the only politician on the ticket, admits that there is no hope for his party unless it can break even in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, and now that the registry returns of the greatest voting centre of the State show that the class of citizens on whom the Keystone pinned their faith have proven indifferent, it is ample evidence that this indifference exists in nearly every quarter of the State. When the North American admits defeat, it is no use for the balance to whistle in order to keep up their courage.

YOUR KIDNEYS NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, Ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise, and yet the teeth are not one-tenth so important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes it out of the body by way of the bladder?

Well all this is so, as any physician will tell you and this being the case, doesn't it stand to reason that these little strainers in the kidneys become clogged with impurities?

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood. Uric acid gets into the blood by the kidneys. The kidneys are clogged and are unable to properly strain the impure matter.

An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure when the kidneys are concerned. It's as easy as to clean out clogged kidneys as to clean your teeth.

Just go to W. F. Hennings today and get a bottle of Thompson's Borsoma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Borsoma is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

STREET CAR MEN VISIT CHARLEROI

Newly Appointed Superintendent and Assistant Here Today

J. W. McKay, general superintendent of the Pittsburg and Charleroi line and of the Washington and Canonsburg line and Fred Eibs, assistant superintendent, came to Charleroi today on an inspection and business trip. Mr. McKay was recently appointed general superintendent and Mr. Eibs assistant. At the same time E. C. Fitch, who had been superintendent of a city system and Cornelius Buchanan, who previously held the position of inspector, was promoted to the office of local superintendent.

MAKING TESTS OF THE FIRE PLUGS

The monthly examination and flushing of fire plugs in the borough is being made today by Borough Clerk Ira L. Nickeson, Walter Lewis a representative of the street department, and by Harry Sphar of the Charleroi Water company. A report of the condition of the plugs will be made to council probably at their next meeting.

Mrs. A. R. Mountsier returned yesterday from the Allegheny General Hospital where she underwent an operation.

Mrs. J. W. Hunter has gone to Sutersville to visit her parents.

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Call at the office of Charles O. Frye, 511 Washington Avenue, and get full particulars.

PALESTINE.

Many Ways In Which It Strikingly Resembles California.

Palestine is more like the state of California than any other in the world in everything except size. It lies between longitude 34 degrees 30 minutes and 36 degrees 30 minutes east and between latitude 30 degrees 30 minutes and 33 degrees 45 minutes north. It is practically a California reduced to about one-twentieth in size, but markedly similar in general topography, climate, vegetation and agricultural and economic possibilities. Like California, Palestine is longest from north to south. Like California, too, it has both very high mountains, having an elevation of 9,000 to 10,000 feet, and very deep depressions. The Dead sea, 1,200 feet below sea level is the greatest depression known, and, like the Death valley of California, it is situated in the south-western extremity of the country. In Palestine, just as in California, we have a dry, warm season and a humid and more temperate one. The rainy season extends from October to May and the dry season from May to October.

Palestine is even more favored than California with regard to the winter temperature. Although the thermometer rises as high in summer in Palestine as in California, with extremes of 110 degrees to 115 degrees F., though not so often. It very rarely drops in the winter to the freezing point. Snow is rare, even on the plateaus, and our farmers are practically safe from any damage by frost over nearly the entire extent of the country.—From Aaron Aaronsohn's "Agricultural and Botanical Explorations in Palestine."

The Way She Tried to Discover the Telephone Numbers.

"I don't believe that the public schools teach their graduates to use their minds," remarked a well known citizen of Philadelphia the other day. "Here's a story just to illustrate what I mean:

"I got a secretary last summer who had just been graduated with high honors from the Commercial high school. She had been picked out for me as the best girl in her class, and I found her excellent in all that required methodical, parrot-like work.

"One day I jotted down some telephone numbers that I wanted to remember and, having a poor memory forgot in the course of the morning whose the numbers were or what the business was upon which I wanted to phone.

"So I called Miss Blank just as I was going out and said, 'Before you get your luncheon I wish you'd find out for me whose those telephone numbers are.'

"Two hours later I came back, and Miss Blank was sitting at her desk, weary and perseveringly studying the telephone book.

"I asked her if she had got some letters written that I had left, if she had lunched, if she had done several little things. She said no and then explained:

"You see, it takes me a long time to read through the book till I come to the numbers you want," she said. "I haven't had time to do anything else!"—Philadelphia Times

Robbed of Her Happiness.

"You are not looking well, Mrs. Widdington."

"No; I haven't slept well lately."

"What's the trouble? Has the weather affected you?"

"Oh, no, it isn't that."

"I'll tell you what it is. You ought to give up the practice of drinking coffee at night. I know a lot of people who toss awake all night after they have been out to a late dinner and finished with coffee. I had to quit it myself."

"I'm sure that isn't the cause of my trouble."

"Have you seen a doctor?"

"No. A doctor couldn't help me any."

"But how can you tell until you go to one and let him examine you?"

"Well, if you must know, I'm worrying about my husband. He hasn't kicked at the size of the bills lately and he's been so kind and even tempered right along for a month or two that I feel almost sure he must be leading a double life. Ah, if he would only get to grumbling and making it disagreeable around the house again!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Waiter With Two Cars.

A Cleveland party recently sojourning in a Toronto hotel decided to take an automobile ride about the city. They approached the extremely self-conscious clerk and asked him where they could secure a car.

"Our head waiter has two, don't you know," he replied.

It took some little time to recover from this shock, but presently one of the party ventured to ask the price.

"Three an hour," was the answer.

That was voted satisfactory and at luncheon one of the Cleveanders turned to the nearest waiter.

"Who is the chap that owns two automobiles?" he asked.

"I am the chap," the waiter replied, and he threw such a freezing emphasis into the word "chap" that it was fairly frost cracked.

They finished their luncheon before they had enough courage to ask the price.

"Four dollars an hour," the waiter replied with haughty indifference.

Then they went upstairs and hired a very good car for $3 an hour—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Good Time.

Frequently you hear a rich man abused because he stays on the job that made him rich instead of spending his time gadding about the earth in search of a good time. But it is hardly fair to assume that avarice and greed prompt such action or even that it is a lack of faith in humanity. Very likely the work done represents the good time for the man who stays at it after all need of work has passed for it is certain that there are many kinds of what constitutes happiness, and the man who selects loafing is apt to change his mind in time if he tries it. Doing nothing is harder than work and if a man has spent many years at work, earning little of play, work brings him more enjoyment than the butterfly existence.—Archibald Globe

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or ringing in the ears, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; none can be cured but can be cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

ROOSEVELT BORROWS THEM

At the next session of the United States Congress Pennsylvania will take the right of the line and move well in advance in the procession of states in this great nation. The result of the approaching general election will in no way influence the enviable position secured by this State in national affairs. Of course the result of the coming election is not in serious doubt, but the election, even of the Socialistic candidate, could not change the position to which the State will be justly entitled when the national Congress again assembles. No sane person is seriously considering the Socialists in the pending struggle in this grand old Commonwealth and by the same token no sane person by any possible brand of reasoning is able to convince himself or any other person that either the Democrats or the Keystoners has a chance much improved over that of the Socialists. The Republicans are just as certain to carry Pennsylvania at the election next month as it is certain that an election will be held. Therefore the duty of all Republicans is clearly defined. The job of making that certain victory overwhelming rests not entirely with the regular leaders of the Republican party but with every Republican in the State. The pride and honor of being part of the majority in the leading State in the nation should be shared by all members of the majority party and there is no Republican so remote or obscure who should shrink from demanding his full share of the credit for placing his party and his State in the front rank of states and parties. John K. Tener will be elected Governor of Pennsylvania next month by an overwhelming majority. Every Republican should and no doubt will share in the credit for that achievement. Pennsylvania will send an overwhelming Republican delegation to the next Congress and every Republican in the State should have a proportionate share in the credit for that good work. Never before in the history of the party has the individual Republican shared more liberally in the management of his party than at the present time. The policy of the Republican party in Pennsylvania is absolutely the policy of the members of the Republican party in this State and that policy is the basis for its surging and contention in other States where Republican supremacy is being threatened and is in many cases actually endangered. It is the policy of the Republican party in Pennsylvania for which Colonel Roosevelt is battling in New York State. It is the policy of the Pennsylvania Republicans for which the insurgents are fighting in Wisconsin, Indiana, Kansas and other States and they are fighting for that policy wholly and solely because it is advanced and is the policy of the whole people and against the policy of political bosses and selfish leaders. President Taft came to Pennsylvania and found that the policy of the Republican party guaranteed Republican control. He approved that policy publicly and without stint. He urged that other States should follow the example set by the Pennsylvania Republicans and he refused to lend his mighty influence to the selfish leaders in other States where the Pennsylvania policy was being ignored. Colonel Roosevelt came to Pennsylvania and was delighted with the political condition here. He went unannounced into the industrial sections. He attended meetings of civic organizations and he felt the public pulse as the advance agent of progressive politicians. He found the policy of the Pennsylvania Republicans much to his liking and he immediately went from this State to New York where he insisted that the Pennsylvania policy should be the policy of the New York Republicans. He of course had to fight for the innovation which he proposed, but fighting is fattening to him and he has stormed the citadel of bossism, drove the selfish old leaders from their apparently firm positions and placed the Republican party of the Empire State on the policy and platform which he had borrowed from the Pennsylvania party in Pennsylvania. By borrowing their platform and policy Colonel Roosevelt has practically guaranteed continued supremacy to the New York Republicans. He placed upon the platform borrowed from Pennsylvania a Republican candidate for Governor of the same class and character as the Pennsylvania Republicans select as their candidate for Governor and the people of New York will elect the Republican candidate because he is the candidate of the people on a platform designed by the people and because he sits that platform just

Republican platform: in Pennsylvania

It will be recalled that not a few of the Democrats and political place hunters in Pennsylvania such as Candidate Berry have gone on record as heartily indorsing Colonel Roosevelt. That, however, was before Colonel Roosevelt came to Pennsylvania, approved the Republican party and its policies and then took those policies and platform back to New York to secure the Republican party of the Empire State from just such incoherent pretenders as Mr. Berry. Colonel Roosevelt will not only continue New York to the Republicans by borrowing policies from Pennsylvania Republicans but already he has silenced the guns of the discontents which have been trained upon President Taft ever since his inauguration and those who are willing to hold their ear to the ground for even a moment must read in the political rumblings the fact that Mr. Taft will be renominated for President if he decides that he wants another nomination and just as certainly as he accepts a renomination he will be re-elected because long before the next presidential campaign Pennsylvania's policies and platform will have become contagious among the Republicans of the nation and thus alone will assure Republican success in Republican states. The fact that Colonel Roosevelt is applying Pennsylvania medicine to the Republicans of other sections and is acting as the successful physician almost immediately after being so heartily indorsed by Candidate Berry and his kind places the discontents and place hunters of this State at a disadvantage to say the least. The facts are there is nothing wrong with the Pennsylvania Republicans and their Policies. Colonel Roosevelt, the apostle of real political reform, has himself said so and Mr. Berry himself has told the voters of the State that Colonel Roosevelt is all right all the time.

While the result of the pending political contest in Pennsylvania will in no way hamper the enviable position enjoyed by Pennsylvania at the next session of the United States Congress it will be pleasing to the individual Republicans of this State to realize that they had a part in electing a Republican Governor and a Republican Congress to strengthen and uphold the hands of their Republican Senators and members of Congress who are next to the people themselves responsible for the policies and platform which so appealed to Colonel Roosevelt that he carried them away from the Keystone State to support and support the progressive Republicans not only in New York, but in the nation at large.

No one individual in Pennsylvania deserves more credit for the advanced position now occupied by our State in the affairs of the nation than is due to United States Senator Boies Penrose, the accepted Republican leader in Pennsylvania. In assuming State leadership Senator Penrose appealed to the rank and file of the Republicans for harmony and concerted action. He learned from his followers just what they wanted and held an aggressive fight to satisfy their wishes. At present he enjoys to the fullest the confidence and respect of the individual members of the Republican organization in the State. Just as he richly deserves to be passed from a State figure to a national leader of his party. He is chairman of the committee on Postoffice and Post Roads in the Senate one of the most important assignments in that body. He will at the next session progress to the head of the finance committee of the Senate, a commanding position in that body. He is also a member well up on the committees of Commerce, Naval Affairs, Education and Labor, Immigration and Public Expenditures. Senator Penrose also represents Pennsylvania of the Republican national committee and enjoys the confidence and esteem of President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and others of their class. In short the leader of the Pennsylvania Republicans is a recognized leader of the Republicans of the nation and his prominence intensifies the pride of his constituents in his advancement.

A BAG OF GOLF CLUBS.

They Picture In a Way the Various Phases of Human Society.

Devotees of the links will be interested to learn that, in the opinion of a Philosophical student of their ancient game, a bag of golf clubs is a symbolical epitome of human society.

In the front rank you have the driver, smooth, polished, elegant, the aristocrat of the circle, to whose lot falls the showy role in the day's performance, who disdains to play his part on the level of his fellows, and must have his sphere of operations artificially raised above the plane of the common earth. The brassy is your rich commoner, substituting a barrier of merriment for the tee that confer rank on his social superior. After these come the humbler cleebs, lofters and mashies, the common herd, who, like the butchers, shoemakers, and tillers of the ground among human beings, have the bulk of the work to do, and can afford no polish save what comes from keeping themselves clean, hard and busy.

It is no easy task. Apart from them all stands the niblick, the good Samaritan of golf, resorted to only when the player is in a serious difficulty. The function of the niblick is to aid the golfer in the day of trouble, and his destiny, after having done his duty in that state of life, is to be relegated to the limbo of forgetfulness.—Argonaut.

A Tip or Two.

According to the Saturday Evening Post, a man who had a country place on Long Island came to New York one morning to do a little speculating. He was a great believer in tips.

On the ferryboat it came to him that he had had somehow a tip on oats. He couldn't remember just what it was, but somebody had told him to buy oats. So when he reached his broker's office he looked into oats a bit and bought some. Oats were active. He pyramided skillfully and by the close of the market was $7,000 ahead.

Of course such luck as that had to be celebrated, and it was. As the celebration went on the oats buyer told the story several times and each time took on importance in the retelling as an oats buyer until he finally became the oating king. He reached his railroad station somewhat late and found the stableman waiting for him with a trap.

"By the way," said the stableman, "did you remember to order that five-hubbs of oats I asked you to buy this morning?"

Not Safe.

The negro on occasions displays a fine discrimination in the choice of his friends.

"Who's the best whitewasher in town?" inquired the new resident.

"Ale Hall am a bo'ud att'ne' with a whitewash brush, sah," answered the colored pariah eloquently.

"Well, tell him to come and white wash my chicken house tomorrow."

Uncle Jacob shook his head dubiously.

"Ah don't believe, sab, Ah'd engage Ale Hall to whitewash a chicken house, sah."

"Why, didn't you say he was a good whitewasher?"

"Yes, sah, a powefol good white-washer, sah; but mighty queer about a chicken house, sah, mighty queer!"—Human Life.

Her Revenge.

A little girl had been so very naughty that her mother found it necessary to shut her up in a dark closet—in their family the direst punishment for the worst offense. For fifteen minutes the door had been locked without a sound coming from behind it—not a whisper, not a sniffle. At last the stern but anxious parent unlocked the closet-door and peered into the darkness. She could see nothing.

"What are you doing in there?" cried she.

"And can a little voice piped out from the darkness:

"I'm taking a little vacation."

He Made Good.

Lord Lansdowne once had a remarkable prophecy made concerning him while he was an Oxford graduate Jewett, his tutor at Balliol, greatly admired him and always said that he would do great things.

"There goes a man," remarked Jewett, "who is as certain to be foreign secretary in due time in whichever party he chooses as tomorrow's sun is to rise."

Of course at that time Lord Lansdowne had not the least idea of filling such a distinguished post, and yet in 1900, after a brilliant political career he found himself at the head of the foreign office.—London M. A. P.

Her Lost Chance.

Mrs. B.—I wonder why Miss Singleton refused the curate when he proposed to her?

Mrs. D.—All a mistake, my dear. A sad mistake; you know she has grown a little deaf, and she did not suspect he was at all "gone" on her. She actually thought he was asking her to subscribe to the new organ fund, so she told him she was sorry, but she had promised all her money in another direction.

Mrs. B.—Then what happened?

Mrs. D.—The curate felt himself insulted and departed in dudgeon, and she's lost the only chance she ever had.—London Telegraph

Sense of Humor Declining.

"Do you think Americans have a great sense of humor?"

"Well," replied Senator Sorghum, "I'm afraid it isn't what it used to be. The folks out home are becoming so interested in economic issues that they don't seem to care whether I tell them any funny stories or not."—Washington Star.

Wrong Trail.

First Professor of Chemistry—"What are you working at now? Second Professor—I'm trying to ascertain the cause of baldness. First Professor—Oh, stop it! You're wasting your time. What you ought to be doing is trying to ascertain the cause of hair growth."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Ready Demonstration.

"Do you think you can make my daughter happy?" asked Miss Thirsty Smith's father gravely.

"Why, I have already, haven't I?" replied Spooner. "I've asked her to marry me."—Smart Set.

His Lost Leg.

A tramp called approached a man on the cars the other day and said, "Dear sir, I have lost my leg," to which the man replied, as he hurried away, "My dear friend, I am very sorry, but I have not seen anything of it."

A Disagreeable Reception.

Wearry Wiggles—I don't like the reception I got at that house. Bleating Harry—who came to the door? Wearry!

The Symbolism Didn't Appeal.
"Charlie," sorrowfully sighed the young lady in the parlo, of the concrete house on Washington avenue, "it is nearly 12 o'clock."

"Yes, Belinda," was the breathing response of her poetical companion, who was sitting on the sofa beside her, "the minute hand is drawing closer to the hour hand, and when the time of midnight is chimed the two hands will be even as one. Oh, darling Belinda," he continued as he literally simulated the action of the minute hand, "may not the coming together of those two hands be symbolical of us?"

She broke away and stood firmly on her feet. "No, Charles Henry Smith," she retorted angrily, "those iv hands will remain as one but a single second, and then the minute hand will divorce itself and go on its way alone. No, Mr. Smith, a minute hand that doesn't stick isn't the kind of symbolism I want!"—Chicago News.

Dividing a Long Sermon.
Dr. Samuel Euell of the last half of the eighteenth century, who used to preach two or three hours, like Isaac Barrow, was ingenious in obtaining his congregation. On one occasion, after preaching nearly two hours—as long as he could feel secure in the presence of all his hearers—he remarked that he was done preaching to sinners and that they were at liberty to go; the rest of his discourse would be addressed to good people.

A gentleman who once went to hear him stated that when the hourglass was nearly ready to be turned a second time from the commencement of his sermon he said, much to the relief of the person who related it, "Once more." After going on some eight or ten minutes longer he said "To conclude," and after another about equal interval he said, "Lastly."

He Came Down Light.
A Chicago board of trade man who was not in the habit of attending church was taking a walk one Sunday morning, and on coming to a church at the regular hour of service he decided to go in. As he entered the auditorium in which the pews were adjusted upon a sloping floor an usher stepped forward and, wishing to consult him as to location before conducting him to a sitting, politely inquired:

"Would you like to come down pretty well?"

Mistaken as the query to be an appeal for money, the board of trade man began to fumble through his pockets as he drawled:

"I'd like to, but I'm not prepared to come down very heavy, as 15 cents is all I have with me."—Harper's Magazine.

A Varnishing Tip.
When varnishing wood the work must be done in a warm room at a temperature of at least 75 degrees F. At a lower temperature the moisture in the air will give a milky and cloudy appearance to the varnish. On the other hand, at the higher temperature the moisture is not precipitated until the alcohol of the varnish has sufficiently evaporated to leave a thin smooth film of shellac. The durability and gloss are dependent on this.

The Blind Man's Lantern.
A blind man in Khoota (a Caucasian village) came back from the river one night bringing a pitcher of water and carrying in his hand a lighted lantern. Some one meeting him said, "You're blind. It's all the same to you whether it's day or night. Of what use to you is a lantern?" "I don't carry the lantern in order to see the road," replied the blind man, "but to keep some fool like you from running against me and breaking my pitcher."

His Peers.
"Pa, what does it mean to be tried by a jury of one's peers?"
"It means, my son, that a man is to be tried by a jury composed of men who are his equals or on an equality with him, so that they will have no prejudice against him."
"Then, pa, I s'pose you'd have to be tried by a jury of baldheaded men."

The Widow.
"In a town," said a life insurance official, "where life insurance was a rare thing a schoolteacher said to a little boy pupil:
"Tommy, define the word widow."
"A widow," Tommy answered, "is a poor woman with a large family of children who takes boarders."

Painfully Frank.
Wedderly: They say that a man and his wife grow to look alike after they have been married a few years. Now, my wife and I have been married ten years. Do you think we look alike? Singleton—Yes, indeed. You both seem to have the same sad expression.

Might Have Been Worse.
Rheumatic Patient—Oh, doctor, I do suffer so with my hands and feet! Cheery Doctor—My dear woman, only think what inconvenience you would have to suffer without them.

The Earth.
Tommy—Pop, does the earth go round? Tommy's Pop—Yes, my son. But it wouldn't if it was divided among all the people who want it.—Philadelphia Record.

No man has yet discovered the means of giving successfully friendly advice to women—not even to his own.

Berryman's Shop Talk

BLANKE'S

This store has been buying Blankets of the right kind for most fifteen years and found only one bad one, and that customer got a new blanket, and then admitted two rambunctious boys had kicked a hole in it. "Is that a record?" Well, we think so and so do the people, and that accounts for them coming here in such large numbers for blankets.

You've got to depend on a store for blankets of the right kind, and the store depends on the manufacturer. Now we say "leave it to us." We won't overcharge you, but good blankets with good wool cost a fair price.

Our blankets are now in and marked in plain figures and you can see them with both eyes open and feel of their goodness with both hands. Oh! It's easy to buy good blankets here.

Cotton blankets and they look like the wool—are pretty, soft and serviceable and sell at $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

Then there comes the cotton blankets that are used so much for sheets—and we've got the kind that's big enough for a sheet, light and dark colors. These good sized blankets sell at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00 and we don't ask you to buy the smallest.

Comfortable—Evened to a perfect fit—Happily—Have or Comfortable or Bed—Covers—we've got them and Jack Frost is sending in the layers. There is nothing but—having what the people want when they want it.

And that just reminds me that this big store has received over thirty thousand dollars' worth of new and dependable goods within the last six weeks. Well, I guess you'll find what you want when you want it.

Have you bought your boy your winter suit yet? Now you won't do justice to your boy until you see our Boy's Clothing. Let the boys come in—they'll tell you. More than that, we don't care if the boy is four years or two times forty years, we've got the right clothes for him, and we guarantee the goods and the price.

Shop talk may seem easy, but we are here to prove—it matters not if you are from Missouri or Pennsylvania.

Attractive Course Provided at Bedford by Railroad Company.

In an effort to increase the interest in its Telegraph School at Bedford, Pa., the Pennsylvania railroad has sent broadcast a pamphlet describing the work which it is doing in the institution. The number of students enrolled up to September first of this year was 248, of which number 151 have graduated and are now employed as telegraphers. The railroad expects to increase this number materially by its campaign.

The students at the Bedford School are taught practical railroading. The regular railroad telegraph wires are run through the school and train orders and telegrams are received and transmitted in the same way as in the regular service.

A mechanical sending machine, with a transmitter that can be set at any speed has been installed in the school. This machine is used to teach the students to receive messages, and as it transmits at a uniform speed, it is of great advantage. The school is equipped with a library, as well as a miniature railroad with a perfect block signal system. In addition to learning telegraphy the students are taught the duties of station agents in order that they may be prepared to take charge of stations immediately upon graduation. In view of the use of the telephone in train dispatching on the Pennsylvania Railroad, the latest innovation at the Bedford School is a course in dispatching trains by telephone. The Pennsylvania Railroad now uses the telephone on a number of its branch lines as well as on the Low Grade freight line.

In the pamphlet which the Railroad has just issued it is announced that the school of telegraphy was established for the purpose of educating young men to become telegraph or telephone operators, and to make it as easy as possible, only a nominal fee is charged. Students graduate in from six to eight months, and as a pamphlet states, "all graduates are given positions on the Pennsylvania Railroad, with the assurance that if they are faithful in a discharge of their duties they will have steady employment, and will be placed in line for promotion to higher positions."
